CHENEY PEP RALLY SET FOR TONIGHT

STUNTS PLANNED BY LOCAL CLUBS FOR HOMECOMING

Friday Night Entertainment Features Original Program

The Friday night entertainment at the Ellensburg Theatre will be one of the big events of the Homecoming program. Sue Lombard, Kamola hall, the Men's residence, the W. A. A., the Kappa Pi and the Off Campus girls will each put on a stunt. These various clubs have worked very hard on their stunts. The stunts will all be original and a prize will be given by Pautzke's studio to the house or club producing the best entertainment. The judges will work on the point basis in making their decision. A great deal of enthusiasm has been

ALUMNI BANQUET DRAWS SEVENTY E. N. S. STUDENTS

Seventy alumni were present at the Alumni dinner given at the Gowman hotel, Seattle, last Thursday evening, Oct. 24, under the direction of Rudolph Seppi, president of the Alumni association. The dinner was in honor of the Ellensburg Normal graduates attending the W. E. A. meeting in Seattle.

Mr. Seppi asked President George H. Black to tell the alumni of the present expansion of the college, the new curriculum and the changes on the staff. The members of the faculty attending the banquet were introduced by President Black. Those present were Miss Helen Smith, Miss Ruth Potter, William T. Stephens and Dean Muriel G. McFarland.

Many of the alumni expressed their intention of returning this week end for homecoming.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS RECEIVE MODERN MACHINE LATHES

Equipment recently purchased for the industrial arts department includes a new wood lathe and a machine lathe.

The machine lathe is a very modern mechanical device and will aid students in various forms of metal construction work. The new wood lathe will make it possible for more students to do wood turning work.

The shop has been surrounded by mystery the past week as many of the students have been steadily working on various attractive signs for homecoming.

To give more room for general woodworking and eliminate the noise of the shop, the mechanical drawing section has been shifted to the lower floor of the building.

Lively School Spirit Roused Thru Soph Rules! Live and Learn, Frosh

To arouse a lively school spirit on the campus for Homecoming, the sophomore men have laid down a number of rules for their wee brothers, the Freshmen, who thru agony the past week have tried to observe.

Rule 1. There shall be no smoking on the campus. This includes the men's residence and also campus streets. Thus the first obnoxious request made by the upperclassmen.

Rule 2. Freshmen will not be permitted to wear ties, or any dress-up apparel. Strange, but true, they don't wear any anyway.

Rule 3. Underclassmen must address their older brothers to show superiority by yes sir or no sir. This rule is quite an agony teaser.

Rule 4. No frosh can associate or talk with any women on the campus. This requirement seems to top the list for punishment.

Rule 5. The last but not least: freshmen must do any chores that an upperclassman may designate.

These requests went into effect last Monday and have been observed by the yearling brothers throughout the week, although considerable anxiety has been displayed on the part of the underclassmen. However, these conditions will terminate at the half of the Wildcat-Savage battle tomorrow afternoon, when the mighty secondyear students will defend a flag against a horde of first year youngsters. After the battle the classes will again become friends.

Souvenir Programs For Homecoming

Special Souvenir programs in honor of Homecoming will be placed on sale today at the registration booth in front of Kamola hall and at the Ellensburg Theatre tonight. Students desiring to get one should do so early as there is but a limited number. The programs which are in pamphlet form have attractive brown covers on which a golden W is engraved. They will contain complete information about the lineups of the two teams and photographs of the coaches and their teams. A message from President George H. Black will be contained in the programs. The last few pages are for the game score, memorandums and autographs.

LECTURE GIVEN BY MISS CORNISH

Resume of Recent Tour of Europe Subject at Assembly

Giving an interesting resume of her recent tour of Europe, Miss Nellie Cornish of the Cornish school in Seattle, spoke to the student body Tuesday morning, October 29.

Miss Cornish began her talk with an account of her trip across the United States. After her voyage across the Atlantic, she went first to some of the Italian cities on the Mediterranean sea. From there she went on up through Switzerland, France, and finally to England.

Her personal impressions and reactions to various places and people were most interesting and afforded a great deal of humor.

After a bird's-eye view of the tour had been given, several reels of pictures were shown on a screen. These pictures were ones which Miss Cornish had taken herself during the course of her journey. Her account was made much more realistic by the use of these pictures.

Miss Cornish gave an additional talk in the afternoon. She showed some pictures relative to puppets and dancing.

PROGRAM GIVEN IN DINING HALL

Entertainers Sing; Introduced by Scotty, Yell King

A delightful program was presented to the students in the dining hall last Friday evening, October 25. The program, which consisted of songs and speeches, was short and snappy.

Scotty MacDonald introduced the entertainers of the evening. First of all, Ruth Howard and her sister Mary, eta Howard sang "I Miss You." The two girls did very well and sang a second song, "Canoe-do-lad-along."

Not as a part of the program, but rather as an exercise for the group was the singing of songs by the entire student attendance. Miss Nell Stewart, accompanied by Miss Juanita Davies on the piano, led the crowd in their singing.

Much to the entertainment of the students, was the singing and playing of two little town boys, Merritt Desvoigne and Frankie Freer. Merritt Desvoigne sang, "The Pagan Love Song," "Vagabond Lover" and "The Peanut Song," while Frankie Freer accompanied him with the banjo.

Roy Sandberg, head coach, gave a little talk to the students. He told the group the importance that school spirit will play in coming games. Mr. Sandberg concluded his speech by introducing Leo Nicholson and family. Mr. Nicholson is the new assistant coach of the school.

WELCOME SIGNS MADE BY HALLS

Kamola hall, Sue Lombard hall and the men's residence are making signs for homecoming. These signs will be hung in front of the halls to welcome the returning grads. These signs will be judged and a prize awarded by J. N. O. Thomson to the winning house.

Those on the sign committees for the respective houses are as follows: Kamola hall; Gladys Levin, chairman; Lillian Matson, Amanda Bloomquist, Thelma Stabene, Erin Dawson. Sue Lombard; Noweita Howard, chairman; Dorothy Robards, Helen McLean. Men's hall; Arne Randall, chairman; Michel Wahle.

TO MAKE SPECIAL TRIP TO YAKIMA

Additional attractions around Ellensburg during Homecoming week-end will be the special aeroplane trip Sunday, November 3 to Yakima, by the Inter-City Airline. The charges will be but $5.00 a round trip, an exceedingly low rate.

Many special "hops" will be made Sunday and special rates will be made to Normal students. Students interested should read the Inter-City Airline ad elsewhere in the Campus Crier.

Ellensburg will be the headquarters for this company.

COLLEGE DANCE TO BE CLIMAX OF HOMECOMING

Committees Named to Work Out Plans for Closing Event

The climax of homecoming will be the all college dance which is to take place in the student pavilion, Saturday evening, November 2. Decorations for the evening will portray the idea of Thanksgiving, with an abundance of autumn color. Huge yellow pumpkins, cornstalks and bright colored leaves will delight the eyes of the dancers.

POTTER ATTENDS W. E. A. MEETING

Report of Home Economics Discussion is Brought to Students

Miss Ruth Potter, of the home economics department, reports a very interesting time at the Washington Educational Association.

The home economics division met in the junior ballroom of the Olympic hotel in Seattle, October 24. Miss Pinkley of Seattle, addressed the group on the subject, vocational home economics. Miss Kanter of Everett spoke on the subject of the home economics teacher as girls adviser in the high school.

Of great interest were the reports given by two of the girls who accompanied Miss Grace Denny, of the University of Washington teaching staff, on a textile research of Europe. They gave a display of some of the things they had helped to gather while abroad, including some very interesting cross work designs, paisley and India shawls and a variety of lovely tapestries.

Miss Nettie Larsen displayed a bayeux booklet depicting the historical conquests of England in tapestry designs.

On Friday, October 25, Miss Potter attended the business meeting and luncheon, Miss Muriel McFarland, chairman of the book committee, gave a report of the books of 1929, and also of books especially good at the present time. Officers for the coming year were elected at this meeting.

"SCOTTY" TO LEAD HIS STRONG BRIGADE THRU CITY STEETS

The biggest, best and noisiest rally in the history of State Normal will be realized this evening when "Scotty" MacDonald, heralded as the greatest noise producer since the existence of deafening thunder will lead his strong brigade thru the main streets of the thriving metropolis, Ellensburg, to arouse spirit for the Cheney game.

As this is the first rally, exactly how much noise his colleagues can make, "Scotty" has not yet determined but it is hoped that the earth will vibrate to such an extent that the people in Tokyo, Japan will feel the sudden tremble and prepare for another earthquake.

Students to Get Hyakem Pictures

Each regular enrolled student sometime in the next few days will receive through his post office box an envelope containing information regarding personal pictures for the Hyakem.

There will be no charge for the taking of these pictures if the envelopes are presented at Pautzke's studio between November 1 and December 1. A charge will be made however, if presented after December 1. Any student who does not receive an envelope entitling him to these sittings should get in touch with Howard Porter, executive secretary, at his office. Mr. Porter states that everyone can help the publishers of the Hyakem by getting his pictures taken as soon as possible.

WINTER STYLES DIFFERENT SAYS ART INSTRUCTOR

Miss Clause Returns From Seattle With New Ideas For Dress

Longer skirts, darker colors and dull finish materials will be seen this winter, according to Miss Emma L. Clause, who returned recently from Seattle. This is the transitory period, says Miss Clause, and not a propitious time for buying ahead. The styles will fluctuate and not become established until spring.

Miss Clause describes the transition period as being a dark period, with black, which is always good, predominating, and dark blues and browns next. The skirt is definitely longer and will be correctly worn at 3 inches below the bend of the knee in back.

New colors are hunters green and dark burgundy. The two outstanding materials are flat crepe and suede crepe. A dull finish is modish; satin is passe except for limited evening wear and for trimming. There is to be

As the large majority of the students participating in the rally are the weaker sex, "Scotty" urges the cooperation of every student; so order will be prevalent throughout the serpentine.

For those who feel over supplied with energy and desire to play crack the whip, punishment will be rendered them by "plenty of spats" by ten members of the Knights of Claw.

Immediately after six thirty in front of the administration building the rally will proceed down eighth street to Pearl and from then the general business section of town.

In front of the Ellensburg Theatre at 7:00 o'clock, the rally will disband, in order that the students may have the opportunity of enjoying the evening's entertainment offered in connection with Homecoming. Confusion and also injury will be avoided if students will remain in file until the rally is over. Please cooperate.

CLASS CONTINUES TO BE INTRIGUING

Art Orientation Courses Takes Up Many Phases of Work

Art orientation continues to be a fascinating riddle. From junior high school art (?) to Chinese philosophy is a long step but an intriguing one. We are ready to believe that there is nothing cut and dried about this course.

Not the trade marks on canned pears or goliwog perfume, but the trade marks on people was the subject of one of Miss Emma L. Clause's lectures. The personal appearance of the individual determines the value others will put on him or her, said Miss Clause. Poise, grooming and manners were stressed as playing important parts in the makeup of a pleasing personality.

Girls in the school may be interested in knowing that their sex does not bar them from industrial arts work. H. Glenn Hogue of that department

Sophomores Educate Frosh Boys To College Life on W. S. N. S. Campus

The other day an innocent little frosh ran into Dean Leonard and then asked him this foolish question, "Why do the sophomore boys treat we freshmen so ruff and savagely this last week?" And of course the reply came, like that from all good fathers, "Well, son, you are too young to understand."

Of course this explanation did not satisfy our little hero, so arming himself with his trusty notebook and his mighty lead pencil, he set forth into this cruel, cruel world to do or to die. The first thought that accidentally fell into the frosh's cranium was to consult with one of the mighty sophs and jot down any valuable clues that he might turn loose on the subject.

So boldly and savagely our little hero crept noiselessly into the room of some bad, bad sophs. What should he behold upon glancing around the room but five giant sophs using the end of their strong paddles to pick the bones of the last frosh out of their teeth. As soon as the frosh was completely through the doorway one soph locked the door, while the other four upperclassmen licked their chops with delight. One of the group growled at the frosh to "come closer." Immediately the well drilled lower classman came back with the response of "yes, sir."

Right here the story becomes a blank verse, for it is not possible to fully describe the terrible scene that followed.

As soon as the bold bad men had molded and hammered the dear little fellow into an intelligent frosh, they turned him loose upon the unsympathetic world once more.

WELCOME HOME, GRADS!

Welcome home, old grads! Our A. S. B. welcomes you back to the Alma Mater once more. Come and join us in the good old school spirit, the spirit of the "crimson and black." How glad we are to see your familiar faces again.

Alumni, we sincerely hope that you have anticipated this homecoming as much as our student body has. This week end that we have set aside in your honor, is hoped to be one of the biggest events of the year. Help us make it so! Make yourself at home while you are with us. Enjoy our school as you did in those 'good old days' when you were students on our campus. Visit your old habitations in the dormitories, peep inside of your old class rooms, eat with us again, and let us help you make this "homecoming" one of the most enjoyable week ends you have ever spent.

Again we say, "Welcome home!"

HELLO LOCHINVAR!

LAST WEEK THE GOLDEN JUBILEE FOR EDISON'S INVENTION OF HIS BLIGHT TO HANDHOLDING WAS CELEBRATED.

Fifty years ago Edison invented the incandescent lamp, throwing a new light on powdered coat lapels.

It was last week that Henry Ford feted the great Edison at a two million dollar party.

It's about time he expressed his appreciation. It was Edison's invention that drove the young folks from the parlor to the flivver.

THIS IS A STRANGE WORLD. IN THE DARK AGES EVERYBODY WAS LOOKING FOR THE LIGHT. NOW THAT WE'VE GOT IT, EVERYBODY IS LOOKING FOR THE DARK PLACES.

Then too, now that electricity and Edison's incandescent lamp makes night into day, a lot of people would like to turn out the daylight so they can get some sleep.

We are told that light travels millions of miles a second.

At this snail-like pace it is no wonder we have to wait all night for it to come.

WE HOPE IT DON'T GET ANY FASTER OR WE'LL HAVE ALL OUR NIGHTS DURING THE DAY.

If this little world should suddenly be filled with perpetual daylight, the rodeo field could only be used for rodeos and football.

Some people say that all the sentiment and sacredness of romance has been lost.

True enough. It was lost in a flood of light.

And these calamity howlers are usually the ones causing the overflow. ROMANCE IS JUST AS SWEET AS IT EVER WAS, ACCORDING TO AUTHENTIC REPORTS.

BUT EVERYTHING BEING LIGHTER, IT DOES NOT WEIGH SO HEAVILY ON THE STRICKEN INDIVIDUALS.

In this day and age the biggest obstacle to romance is the incandescent lamp.

In the old days it was the shotgun. But to get back to the incandescent lamp, it has its good points.

It has brought this era of cleaner illumination and coat lapels.

ELECTRIC LIGHT ALSO STARTED THE EXPOSURE OF WOMEN. THEY'RE FINISHING THE JOB THEMSELVES.

The modern girl would consider herself overdressed in just one of the ruffles that grandma used to wear.

It's just like debutante Fred Van de Gift says: "In the old days the girls used to be considerably ruffled, but you can't make the modern girl ruffled at any time."

AND THIS WORLDLY PRINCE OF WOMEN CASTS A KNOWING EYE AT MARGARET WEGNER, LORNA MELNESS, MARGARET MITCHELL AND OTHERS. AND WE WONDER WHO'LL BE CAST UNDER THE MAGIC OF HIS SPELL NEXT.

Like the method of illumination and the women, football has changed considerably too.

In the old days if a fellow went thru a quarter of playing without a broken leg or a shiner, he was penalized fifteen yards for holding.

In other words, by holding was the only way he could stop a member of the opposing team from giving him one of each.

A FEW TEETH SCATTERED HERE AND THERE WERE CONSIDERED MILESTONES ON THE ROAD TO A TOUCHDOWN.

If the coach saw that his team was losing ground, he'd call time out while he went and got some baseball bats.

The life of a football player in those days was about thirty yards.

BUT IF THE GAME CONTINUES TO EVOLVE IN THE DIRECTION IT HAS IN THE LAST FEW YEARS IT WON'T BE LONG BEFORE TIME OUT WILL BE CALLED WHILE SOME BIG TACKLE GETS A MANICURE.

And the coach instead of using the grammatical explosions that they now employ, will stamp his feet impatiently and cry—"Oh dear, dear, boys, your playing is positively vulgar!"

Speaking of the gentle art of bone-cracking, we hear that the Cheney Savages in blissful anticipation of their forthcoming clash with the Wildcats Saturday, held what they called a Tomahawk pow-wow.

We thought the Flathead Tribe was all dead.

IT MAY BE THEIR SPIRITS AND THEY FIGURE THEY'VE GOT A GHOST OF A CHANCE TO WIN.

But they'll find that the Wildcats combative equipment is not what we call Santa CLAWS.

However, we think it'll be a great game and may the hardest skull win. I thank you.

CLUB WILL SELL POPCORN BALLS

The home economics club met in the green room of Kamola, October 23. The girls decided to make popcorn balls to sell at the homecoming game on November 2. The proceeds will be used to help finance the club. All members are urged to pay their dues as soon as possible.

Because of the small number of members and lack of adequate time, the club will not sponsor a stunt for homecoming.

The president, Beulah Gynn, appointed a permanent advertising committee, consisting of the following: Jane Meredith, chairman, Doris Stern and Mary Greenup.

Directly after the business meeting, an hour was spent playing games. Doris Stern won the first prize of the evening and Sunda Morrison was awarded the booby prize. The following numbers were presented: piano solo by Elsie Hedlund, duet by Edith Staton and Elsie Hedlund; piano solo by Mary Jo Dion.

Pyle Organizes School Pep Band

Francis Pyle, instructor in the musical department, is forming a pep band, which he hopes will add a great deal of spirit to the school and team by playing for the further games. There are about 15 students already, working hard to make the band a success.

The players are using the new instruments that were purchased by the musical department just recently. Mr. Pyle says he would like to have everyone who can play a musical instrument turn out with his little pep band. He is especially short on violin players. In order to make the band a real success, Mr. Pyle must have the cooperation of all musically talented students, who can spare a little time.

HAINER DIRECTS BANQUET PLANS FOR SATURDAY

Football Teams To Be Honor Guests; Samuelson Toastmaster

Under the direction of Norma Berglund, chairman of the banquet committee, and Miss Lila G. Hainer, director of food service, plans for homecoming banquet are well under way.

The large Sue Lombard dining room is to be effectively decorated with chrysanthemums, and candles will furnish the light. The two long football tables for the Cheney team and Normal will occupy the center of the dining room, and will be placed parallel to each other. The speakers table will be at the north end of the room on an elevated platform. Clifford Samuelson, president of the A. S. B. will be master of ceremonies and act as toastmaster for the evening's program.

Plans are being made to accommodate over five hundred persons. Plate service will be used, with the freshmen girls doing the serving.

The girls assisting Norma on her committee are as follows: Mildred Walker, Viola Grady, Vera Sohn, Mable Brown and Ruth Cook.

A very snappy and interesting program is expected, with short speeches from the alumni, instructors and students. Perhaps the climax of the program will be the warding of the silver loving cups to the winner of the stunt and sign contest. The banquet will close with the singing of the alma mater after which all will adjourn to the all college dance in the student pavilion.

KAMOLA FROSH SPONSOR PARTY

At the regular meeting of the Kamola hall girls called by Myrtle Hunt, president, last Monday evening, Oct. 28, Mable Skinner, social commissioner, stated that it has been decided that the freshmen will sponsor a Thanksgiving party; in this way the sophomores can be planning and working on the annual formal, the Snowball. More definite plans concerning this affair will be given out later, according to the social commissioner.

A report was given by the chairman of the sign and stunt committees for homecoming and satisfactory results are being carried out. The hall will be open for inspection but not for general 'open house' during homecoming. Those graduates who would like to visit their old rooms may feel free to do so.

WILDCAT SCALPSWin Over Ellensburg Gives Conference Honors to Visitors

Saturday afternoon at two o'clock football fans will see one of the best Cheney teams that has ever represented the Red and White, when they meet the Ellensburg eleven in the main event of the homecoming program. By a 7-0 victory over Bellingham the Savages loom on the championship horizon and need only a win over Ellensburg to cinch the Tri-Normal honors. The Indians are pointing for the game and planning to hang the Wildcat's hide to their belts.

Cheney Team Strong

Pre-season dope of comparative scores will have nothing to do with this game and Coach Woodward's team are conceded a 50-50 chance of grabbing the honors. Having played five hard games in as many weeks, Ellensburg coaching staff has been faced with the problem not only of keeping the men in shape physically but also in keeping their mental attitude right. They will have however the added advantage of playing on their own back lot, plus the overhead that a homecoming crowd always gives. This is the last as well as the most important game to be played on the rodeo field this year and has been advertised extensively so that alumni may again return to see the Crimson and Black in action against one of their oldest and toughest foes.

Robinson May Play

Robinson, star back, who has been laid up all season with an injured knee will be back in suit and ready to go in if needed. This will somewhat strengthen the backfield and Robinson and McKay as halfbacks and Exley to plug the line, Sandy will have a backfield combination hard to stop. Warwick who was missing from the last game will again be ready for action at guard. The starting lineup will be practically the same as has prevailed all season.

Lineup

Ellensburg: Valdeson, le; Guggenbickler, lt; Hickox, lg; Gagnon, c; Knoell, rg; Phillips, rt; Rogers, re; Sterling, qb; McKay, rh; Erickson, lh; Exley, f.

WILDCATS TROUNCE
COUGAR KITTENS 7-0

With a 71 yard march down the field through for a touchdown, in the second quarter of play, Ellensburg normal scored the only goal in a hard-fought game with the Washington State freshmen eleven, at the Rodeo field last Saturday, to win 7 to 0. The yearlings made their only real threat to soccer in the early part of the game driving to the Normal 28 yard line where they lost the ball by downs, although they were dangerous at all times. After stopping the Frosh the teachers started a drive straight down the field which resulted in Exley plunging over for the lone touchdown of the game.

McKay, Sterling and Erickson gained yardage consistently around end and thru tackle while Exley was always good for a few yards thru center. The line for the most part played good ball considering their heavier opponents.

The visiting team played a steady game in their backfield having some good individual performers, while their line was big and strong and in occasional flashes looked like a real line. From a comparative basis, the Normal had a larger edge than the score would indicate, excelling in every department but the punting and returning of the game.
